

LYNDHURST JANUARY 2020 NEWSLETTER

January has gone by quickly as students have settled back into school after our winter break. Students have enjoyed a variety of field trips and special events: Young People's concerts for Grades 4-7, Golf for Grades 4 and 5, and a visit from Urban Safari Rescue for Grades K-3. We also practiced a 'shelter in place' drill as part of our ongoing practices to prepare students for emergencies. Our month finished off with Literacy Day activities such as the Read-a-thon, Guest Readers and Buddy Activities. Thanks to Ms. Solomon for organizing these events.

Our students are currently engaged in a school wide Family Heritage Project. In this project students are learning about their family history. As part of this project, each student and staff member will place coloured dots on a map to show where their families' ancestors came from. Look for the map which will be in our front hall display case at the completion of the project.

Our school goal is to improve student reading skills. Reading at home is an important part of improving a child's reading skills. Please see the paper copy of the newsletter for some tips about supporting your child when reading at home

As always, thank you for supporting our school!
